RADinfo SYSTEMS™ announces the release of their Micro PowerPACS®, a management tool to Archive, View, Print, and Distribute DICOM Images.

Dulles, VA, September 16, 2005 – RADinfo SYSTEMS Inc., a leader in affordable RIS/PACS and Teleradiology solutions, announces the release of a new “mini-PACS” solution: Micro PowerPACS. An easy and affordable way to begin the filmless journey into PACS, Micro PowerPACS can also address the needs for growing healthcare facilities to Acquire, Archive, View, Distribute and Manage DICOM images. RADinfo SYSTEMS will demonstrate this technology at booth #2165 during the 2005 Radiological Society of North America (RSNA) conference in Chicago, Nov 27-Dec 2.

“The Micro PowerPACS is a compact and powerful solution. It will fit seamlessly into any healthcare facility. It’s fully scalable to an enterprise wide PACS allowing providers to grow their facility at its own pace,” says Dr. Chen-Tai Ma, CEO & President of RADinfo SYSTEMS.”

Micro PowerPACS provides quantifiable cost savings, enhances productivity and speeds patient throughput, diagnosis and treatment. It eliminates the problems and expenses associated with traditional film. Its unique, intelligent design can integrate with any vendor's modality to provide a seamless digital environment. It supports a DICOM modality worklist to register or retrieve patient demographic information from your RIS/HIS, saving time and ultimately reducing costly human errors. A DICOM viewer with a comprehensive toolset allows physicians to read images quickly while ensuring confidence in their assessments and recommendations.
