RADinfo SYSTEMS™ Launches the First Stage of Exciting New Web Presence.

Dulles, VA, September 23, 2005 – RADinfo SYSTEMS Inc., a leader in affordable RIS/PACS and Teleradiology solutions, announces the launch of a new website today. The completely redesigned and reorganized website is a vibrant showcase for the PowerPACS® line of digital radiology solutions. Visitors can quickly locate detailed product specifications and learn how RADinfo SYSTEMS will work to meet the needs of their facility and their budget. The “Power of One Solution” line is also showcased, illustrating the flexibility of the PowerPACS line in addressing the specific requirements of different digital imaging sectors.

“It is more than just a new look...it is a new way to better serve our clients,” noted Dr. Chen-Tai Ma, CEO and President. In a direct response to customer requests, the new website includes the ability to register software on-line and request demonstrations, training or support. “We realize that both our current and potential customers have high expectations for a rapid access to information. That is why this is just the first stage. We are already developing Phase II,” continued Dr. Ma. Phase II of the website, expected early in 2006, will include streaming demonstrations, self-guided tutorials, many more case studies, white papers on the tough decisions facing PACS administrators, and a full product knowledge base.
